

Summer Reading Challenge

Congratulations!

You've officially finished the school year! To keep your brains lemony fresh over the summer, read The Lemonade War by Jacqueline Davies.

Once you've finished reading the book, I want you to design and draw a picture of a lemonade stand of your own and write a 3 paragraph paper describing your stand and your plan to sell lemonade. Your paper should answer the following questions:

1. What does your lemonade stand look like?
2. What will you charge for your lemonade? How much do you think you will sell? How much lemonade will you make?
3. Who will work your stand with you? Will you work it by yourself? What days will you work your lemonade stand?

Be prepared to do some activities with The Lemonade War when school starts back. I hope you have a "sweet" summer!

Due date for summer reading for returning students is August 22nd and NEW to TCA students have until October 18 to turn theirs in.

See you in August!
